

Homeschool Week 2020

THE COTERIE THEATRE

SAVE $50.00 on a Classroom Immersion, The Coterie's new series of virtual residencies available to homeschoolers in Grades 1-12. In 3 one-hour sessions, a professional teaching artist guides students through an interactive lesson plan that reaches English & Theatre Arts standards for KS & MO. Grades 8-12 will virtually view The Masque of the Red Death from The Coterie's production of Electric Poe, a unique socially-distanced outdoor event The Coterie is performing live through Oct. 31 at Union Cemetery. Students will then meet virtually with Poe actor R.H. Wilhoit, who will explore the historical context of Poe's writings and guide students as they create their own dramatic scene. ** Immersions for Grades 4-8 will use monologues from historical figures to inspire students to write and perform their own short piece about a "hero." ** Grades 1-4 will rehearse and perform a short script based on a folktale. ** Immersions for up to 20 students per class are available now through Dec. 2020. Multiple families can even book together! Discounts must be booked by Oct. 31. Cannot be combined with other discounts or applied to previous purchases and is subject to availability. Call 816-474-4241 and mention District Homeschool Week to receive discount. More about Classroom Immersions and Electric Poe available at www.thecoterie.org.

MONEY MUSEUM AT THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF KANSAS CITY

While the Money Museum remains closed to visitors, we are excited to continue the tradition of celebration of homeschool families in the KC Metro. Looking for new ways to teach your family about personal finance and history? Then head on over to the Money Museum website where you can check out a few digital exhibits, videos, and lesson plans directed at all grades and ages of learners. Highlights include:

- Banking on Her: A digital exhibit that celebrates the 100th anniversary of the 19th Amendment and history of women who have served at the Kansas City Federal Reserve.
- A Dime at a Time: An educational video that explores the history of one special dime and instructions on how to make your own piggy bank.

Visit kansascityfed.org/moneymuseum during homeschool week to find these resources and more.
